SENATOR STONE IS DEAD

Senior Senator From Missouri Succumbs to Paralysis in Washington Sunday Afternoon.

William Joel Stone, senior senator from Missouri and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, died at his home in Washington Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, following a second cerebral hemorrhage about day-break.

The following review of Senator Stone's career is taken from the Kansas City Times:

Senator Stone, born in Kentucky, studied law and politics in Missouri, and then for more than forty years played a part in the public affairs of his adopted state as county prosecutor, representative in Congress, governor of the state and United States senator.

His birth, May 7, 1848, was on a farm near Richmond, Madison County, Ky. His early education was that of the district school. His father, William Stone, was the son of John Stone, a Virginian born, and a pioneer settler of Kentucky. When 15 years old, young Stone moved to Columbia, Mo., became a student in ## Piano Recital.

The second program by the Senior Class, Central College Conservatory of Music was given Friday evening by Miss Louise MacDonald. And a large audience and a profusion of flowers attested the popularity of the young lady as she complied with the graduating requirement in a creditable manner.

The program was a symmetrical arrangement of classical and modern selections in interesting contrast, and included two specially delightful numbers by American composers.

Among the numbers most greatly enjoyed was the Nachstück by Schumann; Twilight by Friml; and Will-o-the-Wisp by Grant-Schaefer. An exceptional number, meeting with special favor, was the famous Kammerlei-Ostrow by Rubinstein arranged for Piano and Organ; in which selection the recitalist had the assistance of Mr. D. F. Conrad.

The entire evening was a testimonial to Miss MacDonald's abilities, and the high standards of the Conservatory.

The full program follows:

Sonata Pathétique Beethoven
Grave-Allegro molto e con brio
Adagio cantabile
Allegro (Rondo)

Nachstück, F major Schumann
Moto Perpetuo MacDowell

Kammerlei-Ostrow Rubinstein
(For Piano and Organ)

Le Crepuscule Friml
Feu Follets Grant-Schaefer

Hark, hark! the Lark Schubert-Liszt
Das Spinnerlied Wagner-Liszt

At the Organ
D. F. Conrad.

J. C. Young, proprietor of the Grand, always mindful of the comfort and accommodations for his patrons, has fitted up a room in the Opera House where the little folks may be cared for during a show. In this room will be found all the paraphernalia necessary to engage the youngsters, such as rocking horses, swings, see-saws, chairs, etc. An experienced maid will be in charge.

Joseph Tunstall, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Tunstall, formerly of this city, has been chosen by Ben Jaudon, new city treasurer of Kansas City, as his chief clerk.

LEXINGTON HAD ANTICIPATED NEEDS

Federal Farm Help Specialist Finds His Work Already Done.

Ira F. Reed, Federal Farm Help Specialist was in Lexington yesterday and was very much elated to find that Lexington had anticipated the need for such an organization as the Farm Help Volunteers, and had gotten busy and organized the "City Club" on very nearly the identical plan as the Federal Bureau. This shows the wide-awake interest taken by the business men of Lexington in matters of importance to their community and especially their government. Mr. Reed did not consider two organizations necessary, and therefore designated J. R. Moorehead, Jr., as Division Director of the Lexington Division of the Farm Help Volunteers of Missouri, and he will be endowed with authority to handle the local farm labor situation. He will appoint a live enrollment committee or continue the services of the one already working, and his office at the lumber yard will be the farm labor headquarters to which all applicants for work, and all applications of the farmers of this community for help should be made.

Mr. Moorehead accepts the office without remuneration, purely for patriotic service, with the hope he can render a valuable service to his community, and his government. He should have the hearty cooperation of all in taking care of such small expenses as may be necessary, enrolling without undue solicitation, and if possible to render any service in the work. Do not hesitate to do your duty.

THIS ADDRESS WAS DIFFERENT

Dr. Max Meyer Gave Some Very Interesting Inside History of German Life.

Dr. Max Meyer of the University of Missouri, gave an address last Saturday night at the court house that was interesting and enlightening. He spoke from the view point of one who, born in Germany had now an American citizen, and has reason to abide by his choice of country.

In a practical setting forth of conditions in Germany and German life and training before the war he made plain his deductions concerning the present conditions there and the task America has to face. He told his audience of the traditions of class and caste in his native country and pointed out that the sixty million ruled Germans would obey to the last man, the one million ruling. He minced no words in referring to Germany's greed of America's resources and its designs upon us and our country should the Allies fail to do less than give Germany a thorough beating.

Dr. Meyer's exposition of the subject was sane and plain and appealed to his audience in a most convincing manner. His suggestions were timely and practical, insisting upon America's inculcating American standards, ideas and ideals in the life and education of all who live under her flag and profit from her advantages.

Death at Central College.

Miss Rose Pearson, a student at Central College, died Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the college infirmary after a few days' illness of pneumonia following an operation for appendicitis. Miss Pearson had a severe attack of appendicitis about two weeks ago and an operation was found to be imperative. This was done successfully and the young lady was recovering as rapidly as could be expected when pneumonia developed. The latter, always dangerous, was doubly so under the circumstances, and her sweet young life quickly passed away.

Miss Pearson was the daughter of J. L. Pearson of Pawhuska, Okla., who with her sister, Mrs. Kent, of St. Joseph, Mo., and brother, Joe, were with her when she died.

The funeral service conducted by Dr. Z. M. Williams, assisted by Rev. J. E. Alexander and Rev. Baxter Waters, was held at the College Wednesday morning at 7:45. The body was then accompanied to the train by the members of the college household.

Ransford-Galloway.

Mr. E. L. Ransford, a young farmer of near Odessa, and Miss Susie Galloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Galloway, of near Odessa, were married Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's cousin, Miss Maggie Spears, 714 Main St. Rev. Wagner, pastor of the Methodist church at Odessa, performed the ceremony.

After the ceremony dainty refreshments were served to the following guests: Mrs. Robert Howe, Mrs. T. J. Greene, Mrs. Alice Pointer, Mrs. Charles Taubman, Rev. and Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. George Stewart.

Mrs. S. L. Humphreys returned Tuesday evening to her home in Higginsville, after a visit here with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cross.

Death of Mrs. Thomas M. Cobb.

Mrs. Thomas M. Cobb died Monday evening at 10:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Taubman. Her death, while not unexpected was a shock to the community in which she has lived so long and where she has been much beloved. She had been confined to her bed for several weeks succeeding a slight stroke of paralysis, though her death was immediately due to heart trouble.

Mrs. Cobb was the daughter of the late Solomon and Rachel Houck, and was born in Booneville, Mo., August 15, 1843. She was married to Rev. T. M. Cobb January 29, 1868, and for over fifty years their happily wedded life was an inspiration to their many friends. In all the years of this good woman's life she won by her charm and loving disposition the friendship of all who knew her. She was a member of the Methodist church for sixty years and served her Master in word and deed.

She is survived by her husband and three children, Mrs. R. M. Taubman, Mrs. J. M. Poage and William Cobb of this city.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Taubman, conducted by Rev. J. E. Alexander, assisted by Dr. Paul H. Lynn of Fayette, Mo.

Criminal Court.

MANY LEXINGTON PEOPLE PARADED

A Demonstration Worth While. 3500 Participated.

The patriotic parade on our streets last Friday afternoon was a demonstration worth while and showed the get-together spirit of the whole town when Uncle Sam and his service is the point in question.

From the grand marshal and his assistant grand marshals to the tiniest school tot the line of parade previously planned was followed. With flags flying and patriotic colors rioting, enthusiasm galore radiated to the many spectators that lined the streets along the order of march. Splendid features of the parade were embodied in every organization that was in line.

The demonstration served to launch here the selling of bonds in the Third Liberty Loan.

In the evening Congressman Borland of Jackson county spoke to a large audience in the court house.

Death of Mrs. M. J. Scarlett.

Mrs. M. J. Scarlett, mother of Joseph A. Scarlett of this city, died Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at her home in Breckenridge, Mo. Mrs. Scarlett was 75 years of age. Mr. Scarlett was summoned to Breckenridge Tuesday and left over the river at noon.

YOU CAN'T REFUSE

By Strickland Gillian.

The Sammy came in from the trench, and says he: "There's too many calls on the courage of me. I answered the call when they asked me to come To fight that my countrymen might have a home. I've fought ever since we've been quartered in France; I've gone every time I was told to advance. This order you give, to go over the top To-day, is too much—I am going to stop. There's a limit to what I can rightly afford To give to my country with cheerful accord." The officer's eyes stuck a foot from his face To hear the subaltern who courted disgrace And the private was sent where all mutineers go To be shot the next sunrise—he hadn't a show. I think that with me and you will promptly agree That a firing squad's right for such quitters as he. But hasn't he just as much right to declare His whole duty done and his job to forswear As you in your home that he fights to protect. When you're told that there still is some coin to collect? He's sworn to obey every call that is given; To risk his existence given, You safe at home, take advantage of this, And claim no disgrace when a duty you miss. You seem to believe you've a right to refuse To lend of your hoard for the Allies to use In saving your land and the land of all others Who claim human rights for themselves and their brothers, You have no such right; In stern duty you're bound To GIVE while a coin in your coffers is found.

A GOOD BEGINNING

Enough is a plenty, be it skittles or kids, Especially when one begins Married life on nine dollars per, Too much when the stork brings twins. But hustle, my boy—you're sure to win out; Settle down by yourselves in content. Buy the lumber from us and build them a home; Don't waste all your money on rent. Mighty good advice for some of you old-timers, too. Every dollar paid for rent is just that much good money thrown away. What's the use? Why not take the bull by the horns and let us make you an estimate on the necessary material to build with RIGHT NOW?
